

NEWS FROM ANNA

Vol.2, Issue 2

MARCH, 2009

THREE NEW TITLES COMING SOON PLUS AN ONLINE SERIAL TO FOLLOW

GIFT FROM THE SEA, the sequel to SEASIDE CINDERELLA is set to hit stores in May AND there will be an online serial (20 chapters in 20 days) posted on www.eharlequin beginning March 30. The online read is the story of one of Seaside's most popular secondary characters, Jeanne Witherspoon, and is titled HIS AMERICAN DUCHESS. Go to www.eharlequin.com and scroll down to the 'read' section to link to the story.

In August watch for HOME AT LAST, a heartwarming multigenerational love story set on a cranberry farm on Nantucket Island. [To learn more about this beautiful island, check the links on my home page - Nantucket is indeed an island filled with history - and romance.]

And coming in October is another Nantucket historical entitled AN UNEXPECTED SUITOR. More about this one in future newsletters. In these difficult times when actual travel for pleasure may not be part of your plans, I do hope these journeys to Nantucket in past times and modern times bring you great pleasure and a bit of relaxation!

BEHIND MY GARDEN GATE...

As I write this on March 2nd it does indeed seem as if March has roared in like the lion! I am still blessed to be in sunny Florida but even here the temps today have struggled to reach 60 degrees. Back in Wisconsin it is 'raining' snow and the inches are mounting up. Even so I am starting to look forward to the journey back north - it's always a little like following spring in reverse. We drive through tropical Florida and into a virtual spring festival of azaleas, dogwood and daffodils in Alabama. Tennessee and Kentucky tease us with hints of pussy willow and redbud. And then Illinois brings a bit of reality

- spring comes later in the Midwest. But think of the blessing - I get spring twice!!

DON'T FORGET! Love hearing from you online or via snail mail!! Stay well and stay in touch! Anna
